Narrative:

On Wednesday, November 5, 2012, detectives from the Vacaville Police Department Family Investigative Response Services Team (F.I.R.S.T.), officers from the Solano County Probation Department, California Department of Corrections and Parole, and United States Federal Marshal agents from the Sacramento Division conducted 24 individual 290 offender (sex offender) compliance checks throughout the city of Vacaville.

The individuals contacted are offenders who were identified as being on probation or parole for various sex crimes, identified as sexually violent predators, or being on probation or parole for crimes that included possession of child pornography.

The Vacaville Police Department routinely coordinates and conducts probation and parole checks on offenders identified to be on active probation or parole. In addition to those being on probation or parole, we also contact individuals required to register as sex offenders in our community to ensure they are also in compliance. During this compliance check operation, our agency arrested the above mentioned individual for various violations. We maintain a "zero-tolerance" policy while conducting these checks and encourage individuals to abide by the terms of their probation or parole. S-Orosco was booked into Solano County Jail.
