MAN RETURNS FROM VACATION TO FIND WOMAN LIVING IN HIS APARTMENT

A Vacaville man contacted police Wednesday after returning home to find a woman he did not know, claiming to be the resident, living in his apartment.

On Wednesday, December 26, 2012 at approximately 4:09 p.m., police were called to an apartment in the 1300 block of Burton Drive. The resident of the apartment told police he had just returned home after being out of state for about two weeks to find a woman he did not know inside his residence.

When the victim confronted the suspect, she claimed to live there, at which time the resident went outside and called police.

Officers opened the door of the residence and gave orders for the female, who was later identified as S-Jessica Gilkey, 28, of Vallejo, to come out. S-Gilkey fled down the hallway, locked herself into a bathroom, and refused repeated orders to come out. Officers eventually had to force their way into the bathroom and remove S-Gilkey. Property belonging to the victim was located in S-Gilkey's possession, and subsequent investigation revealed she had gained entry to the victim's apartment while he was out-of-state and began staying there.

S-Gilkey was found to be on active felony probation in Solano County and was also in possession of drug paraphernalia. She was booked into Solano County Jail on charges of burglary, probation violation, and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Anyone with information about this investigation is encouraged to contact the Vacaville Police Department at (707) 449-5200.
