Narrative:

On October 17, 2013, the Vacaville Police Department along with agents from Solano County Probation, California Department of Corrections and Parole, and the United States Marshall Service worked together to conduct a sex registrant compliance check.

Members of the Family Investigative Response Services Team (F.I.R.S.T) compiled a list on known sex registrants who are on probation or parole and conducted home visits to ensure they're in compliance with their court ordered terms. In total, we conducted 24 individual 290 offender (sex offender) compliance checks; three of which are labeled as sexually violent predators, in the City of Vacaville. The offenders were identified as being on probation or parole for various sex crimes, identified as sexually violent predators, or being on probation or parole for crimes that included possession of child pornography.

The Vacaville Police Department, along with our allied agencies, routinely coordinates and conducts probation and parole checks on offenders identified to be on active probation or parole. We maintain a "zero-tolerance" policy while conducting these checks and encourage individuals to abide by the terms of their probation or parole.

This compliance operation resulted in zero arrests because all of the sex offenders contacted were in compliance with their terms.

Below are the names and pictures of the three sexually violent predators contacted and living in the City of Vacaville. Additional information about these offenders or other sex offenders living in your area can be found at www.meganslaw.ca.gov.
